

API and how it is integrated in our software

Web API in our case will make the receipt of the payment from the client and the repass to the sales woman, and its confirmation to the client.

The Web API it's used to create a full-blow HTTP service with an easy and simple way that returns data. It helps to build REST-ful services and it also supports the content-negotiation. It takes care of the returning data in XML format.

Use case:

